Attention:

Dear Jack:

Reference your letter CMOC Doc. No. 151X5.1587 dated 28 January 1960. Returned herewith are three (3) copies each of Amendment No. 22 to Contract No. A-101 and Amendment No. 5 to Contract No.

The suggested changes in above referenced letter have been made. All other provisions of the amendments remain the same.

Your expeditious execution of these amendments will be appreciated as several invoices are being held pending receipt by finance of executed copies due to the extension of the Periods of Performance contained in both amendments.

Very truly yours,

Contracting Officer

Dear Dan:

We are returning herewith all three (3) copies of Amendment No. 22 to Contract No. A-101 and Amendment No. 5 to Contract No. [] as agreed the other day in our telephone conversation.

As I mentioned on the telephone, the negotiated overhead rates policy goes into effect for our company beginning 1 January 1959. If we were to insert actual overhead rates into the contract prior to that date, two things would happen. The overhead rates might be changed as a result of appeals which are presently being adjudicated and, in addition, more than one overhead rate would be applicable for certain periods of time in which more than one division charged their time to this contract. In order to avoid this difficulty, the negotiated overhead rates clause could be made effective 1 January 1959 and subsequent. In order to accomplish this, I would like to suggest that these amendments be revised as follows:

Paragraph 2: In the first sentence, after the word "Contract" add "effective 1 January 1959 and subsequent".

Paragraph 3: In the first sentence, after the word "therefore:" add "effective 1 January 1959 and subsequent". Also revise the second sentence of subparagraph (a) concerning overhead period to read "The first period hereunder shall be from 1 January 1959 to 31 December 1959" and delete all reference to actual rates in years past.

All other provisions of Amendment No. 22 to Contract No. A-101 and Amendment No. 5 to Contract No. [] are acceptable to us.
